

Ethics at the Crossroads:
Where Public Health, Genomics, Data and Translational Science Meet
May 7, 2014, IUPUI Campus Center, Room 307, Indianapolis, Indiana

7:30am	Breakfast and Registration
8:30am	Welcome Eric Meslin (Indiana University, USA) Jay Hess (Dean of Medicine, Indiana University) Anantha Shekhar (Director, Indiana CTSI)
9:00am	Opening Keynote "Sciencesploitation: Stem Cells, Hype and the Marketing of Unproven Therapies" Timothy Caulfield (University of Alberta)
9:45am	Panel #1: Biobanks and Precision Medicine Moderator: Peter Schwartz (Indiana University) Panelists: Michael Burgess (Canada); Kelly Edwards (USA); Jamie Renbarger (Indiana)
10:45am	Break
11:15am	Panel #2: Genomics and Public Health Moderator: Ross Silverman (Indiana University) Panelists: Jennifer Harris (Oslo, Norway), Ron Zimmern (Cambridge, UK); TBD
12:15	Lunch
1:30pm	Afternoon Keynote "Genomic Surprises: Should We Give Patients & Research Participants Unexpected Findings of Clinical Importance?" Susan Wolf (University of Minnesota) Moderator: Kimberly Quaid (Indiana University)
2:15pm	Break
3:30pm	Panel #3: Big Data, Small Data, Shared Data Moderator: Fred Cate (Indiana University) Panelists: Nils Hoppe (Germany); Christine Wasunna (Kenya); Anne Cambon-Thomsen (France)
4:30pm	Panel #4: Translational Science and Global Governance Moderator: Eric Meslin Panelists: Jantina DeVries (South Africa), Clement Adebomowo (Nigeria); Kazuto Kato (Japan); Jane Kaye (UK)
5:30pm	Closing Remarks Eric Meslin
5:45pm	Adjourn